

KU Doctoral Career Session 2026

Career Guidance on Finding Employment in Japan for International Students (Master's and Doctoral Programs)

We provide international students in STEM master's and doctoral programs—specifically those on English-language tracks who may feel anxious about job hunting in Japanese—with an early overview of the Japanese job market and practical methods for finding companies.

Key Contents

- Japan's job-hunting schedule and key timing for international students
- Introduction to tools such as job portals
- Services usable without Japanese proficiency, and how to find English-friendly companies
- Case studies of companies hiring international PhD students
